To: Mr. Allan Arthur
Pictorial Magazine,
Cleveland Plain Dealer

Four internationally known art figures chose the objects pictured on these pages as among the best in the 1959 MAY SHOW.

Explosive forces are at work in science and other fields of endeavor. These forces are reflected in the field of art. It is not surprising then to find that the 1959 MAY SHOW is highly contemporary. Cleveland has not lagged behind other communities in the field of art. Cleveland artists have kept an open mind. They have experimented and developed. This attitude has helped to give Cleveland one of the largest and finest regional art shows in the world - something it can point to with pride.

The Show will be on exhibition through June 14 and is open free to the public.

M. 4.20.59